With 1,679 prime contractors on NAVSEA's Seaport-e program, it's easy to imagine smaller companies might get lost in the shuffle. However, over 80% of the prime contractors are listed as having small business concerns. So the question is not if small businesses have gotten a piece of the pie, but how much?

GovWin's Federal Task Order Database currently provides information on 1,247 task orders that have been awarded under Seaport-e since 2004 and carry a total value of over $17.3billion. Roughly 27% of that total value has gone to small business contractors.

GovWin has compiled a list of the top 10 small business contractors, sorted by total award value, as shown in the following graph. These values are based on the total potential task order values for task orders awarded between May 27, 2004 and September 19, 2008.
